III. Physical Characteristics

A. Geographic size of tax jurisdiction (square miles):

4.7 square miles

B. Describe significant rivers, lakes, mountain ranges, which influence the community:

Oak Park is a very flat, dense, urban environment. With over 51,000 people in 4.7 square miles, it is one of the top 100 most dense cities in the United State according to US Census data. Oak Park is bordered on the east by the City of Chicago and 3 train lines provide easy access for city commuters. The Park District has had to be creative with its 83 acres of land to serve all of its residents, but the urban environment also means that every block in Oak Park is walkable.

IV. Cultural Characteristics

A. Significant social and/or cultural factors that influence the agency's delivery of service:

Because of land and space constraints, many of the demographics of the Oak Park community are not expected to vary through 2028, including size and racial make-up. However, there are several unique characteristics about Oak Park from the Park District's Comprehensive Master Plan and the Park District's Branding Study that influence the Park District of Oak Park's delivery of service, including:

- 55% of Oak Park housing units are in multi-unit structures (apartments, condos, etc.). Many of these residents use Oak Park neighborhood parks as their alternative backyard.
- 67% of Oak Park households do not have any children living in them. It's important that the Park District never become too child-focused and miss serving the majority of the population.
- The median household income is estimated to be $72,867 in 2013 and per capita income is an estimated $44,599. The service area's median household income is well above the state ($56,576) and national ($52,762) averages. Per capita income is also much higher than state ($29,511) and national ($27,915) averages. Both of these high-income numbers mean both that there is a greater level of disposable dollars in the community, and that they come with higher expectation for quality program and facility offerings within the target audiences. Thus, what might be 'good enough' in many places may not be acceptable in Oak Park and the staff must continue to place additional emphasis on service offerings and service delivery through outstanding customer service as a way to differentiate themselves from their competitors.
- Approximately 96% of residents have at least a high school diploma, and nearly 70% have a Bachelor's degree or better. This is significantly higher than national averages and correlates directly with higher income levels and could also indicate a propensity to make greater use of online and social media tools to seek information for Park District offerings.
- Entertainment/recreation ranks fifth out of the 14 spending categories reported, averaging over $4,700 spent per resident per year, which is higher than even travel and dining out.

Additionally, Oak Park is on several of City Data's "Top 100" lists.

- #1 on the list of "Top 100 cities with oldest houses (pop. 50,000+)"
 - #13 on the list of "Top 100 best educated cities (highest percentage of bachelor degree holding residents) (pop. 50,000+)"
 - #53 on the list of "Top 101 cities with the biggest property tax revenues per resident in 2004 in $ (population 10,000+)"
 - #78 on the list of "Top 101 cities with the largest percentage of likely homosexual households (counted as self-reported same-sex unmarried-partner households) (population 5,000+)"

1.1 - Source of Authority ★

Standard: The source of agency authority or legal basis of operation and the extent of powers shall be identified in a legal document such as the state statute, local charter, city ordinance, or park district code.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide legal citation and, if appropriate, date of resolution by local governing entity or legal authority (i.e., enabling act, support documentation, ordinance; if permissive state authority, provide charter).

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 3 - Legal Authority and Jurisdiction, pp. 41-42.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park was created in 1912, as evidenced by a proclamation¹ from the State of Illinois signed by the governor, "the Park District of Oak Park was formed by a voter referendum on April 2, 1912, and since that day has been providing quality parks and recreational opportunities for its residents and guests from around the world..."

The Park District has been unable to locate its articles of incorporation, however is still recognized as a duly constituted Illinois municipal corporation as explained by Mark E Burkland of Holland & Knight, General Counsel for the Park District of Oak Park, in a letter² in 2008:

"Park District of Oak Park representatives, after diligent research including contact with the Illinois Secretary of State and record-keepers in other government offices, have been unable to locate a copy of the Park District of Oak Park's articles of incorporation. The Park District does have information, however, indicating (a) the first meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Park District of Oak Park was held on Monday, April 8, 1912, at which the first terms of the five commissioners were decided and (b) that the Park District of Oak Park has operated continuously as a park district after that date.

Based on the information available to us, it is our opinion that the Park District is a duly constituted Illinois unit of local government.

When the Illinois Park District Code³ (the "Park District Code") was enacted in 1947, the Illinois General Assembly declared that it was the intent of the Park District Code that all existing park districts shall be governed by the Park District Code (with exceptions applicable only to the Chicago Park District). Since the enactment of the Park District Code, the Park District of Oak Park has operated under the provisions of that Code. The Park District's Board of Commissioners has met regularly to conduct the business of the Park District in accordance with the Park District Code, and the Park District has purchased and sold property, created and maintained park and recreation programs, conducted referenda, levied taxes, issued obligations, and in every other respect conducted and managed its affairs in the manner of an Illinois unit of local government.

It is our further opinion, therefore, that Illinois common law recognizes the Park District of Oak Park as a duly constituted Illinois municipal corporation organized and existing under the Park District Code, regardless of the inability of the Park District to find a copy of its articles of incorporation. See People ex rel. Mohlenbrock v. Pike, 197 Ill. 449 (1902) ("Municipal corporations being required by public necessity, the law itself, for the purpose of strengthening the infirmity of evidence and upholding the public peace and the security of private property, will indulge, after long continued use of corporate powers and the public acquiescence, in presumptions in favor of their legal existence.")"

1.1.1 - Approving Authority/Policy Body ★

Standard: The agency organizational structure shall provide for one public entity responsible for policy-making functions. This entity usually has taxing power and must approve the budget; it holds title to property. It also serves an important function in providing input to improve and expand park and recreation programs, services, and facilities.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide a chart or diagram and narrative description of the organizational structure, interrelationship of organizational components and powers of authority over policy-making; show the relationship of the agency to its approving authority and provide the approving authority bylaws or charter.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 3 - Legal Authority and Jurisdiction, pp. 38-52.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park is a council-manager form of local government and is its own entity, separate from all other taxing bodies in Oak Park. The Park District of Oak Park is governed by a Board of Commissioners, an elected board of five citizens. The Board of Commissioners has legislative power including the power to tax, holds title to the Park District's property, and is responsible for all policy-making functions, as well as approval of the budget. The Board appoints and oversees an Executive Director who is responsible for managing the Park District's operations and carrying out the policies and direction set by the Board. These responsibilities and powers are outlined in the Board of Commissioners Policies¹.

The organizational structure outlined on the Park District's Municipal Directory² shows the relationship between the governing body, the Executive Director, and the various Park District components.

1.1.2 - Citizen Advisory Boards/Committees

Standard: There shall be citizen boards/committees that are advisory to the agency and the approving authority that appoints them. Advisory boards engage the community and serve as advocates for the advancement of programs, facilities, and services.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide list of boards/committees with membership, authority, responsibilities and duties, terms of office, meeting minutes.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 3 - Legal Authority and Jurisdiction, pp. 53-54.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District values community input and involvement and has organized four citizen-led volunteer committees to work the Park Board of Commissioners and staff for the betterment of the Park District and community. Basic information about the committees as well as current membership is listed in the Park District's Municipal Directory¹.

Park District Citizen Committee (PDCC). Originally organized in 2003 to assist in the comprehensive planning process, this committee oversees the implementation of the Park District's comprehensive plan and capital improvement plan and provides a valuable communication channel between the Park District and the citizens of Oak Park. With the help of the PDCC, the Park District is better able to assess community needs and expectations necessary to carry out its mission. The PDCC is made up of 11 members, and up to 2 alternate members and 2 student members. They are appointed by the Park District Board of Commissioners to serve staggered 3 year terms. Student members must be Oak Park residents and a junior or senior attending an Oak Park high school who serve a 1 year term from September through August. Meetings are held monthly and PDCC Meeting Minutes² are taken. More information about this committee can be found in the PDCC Mission & Guiding Principles³.

Greening Advisory Committee (GAC). The GAC was originally organized in 2007 as the Greening Task Force to discuss the environmental issues that the Park District was facing, to explore measures to be taken to meet citizens' greening interests, and maintain the health of the parks. The committee acts as a liaison between the Park District and the community, helping implement the Park District's Environmental Policy⁴, assisting the Park Board in identifying and exploring sustainability issues and environmental initiatives, helping determine annual projects, and maintaining the Green Team, the Park District's park stewardship program. The GAC is made up of 6-8 members appointed by the Park District Board of Commissioners who serve staggered 3 year terms and select Park District staff. The committee meets monthly and GAC Meeting Minutes⁵ are taken. More information about this committee can be found in the GAC Mission & Guiding Principles⁶.

Art Advisory Committee (AAC). The purpose of the AAC is to enhance the cultural and esthetic quality of life in Oak Park by integrating art throughout the Park District. The committee was formed as part of the development of Public Art Guidelines⁷ which spelled out guidelines for the acquisition, placement, and maintenance of art in the Park District. The committee acts as a resource and provides expertise in the area of fine arts; maintains an inventory, inspects, and provides public education on existing art in the Park District; works to encourage contribution of funds to the Park District Artworks Acquisition and Maintenance Fund and recommends the designation of these funds; and works with other public and private entities and individuals on art-related activities. The AAC is made up of 7 members appointed by the Park District Board of Commissioners who serve staggered 3 year terms. The committee meets on an as-needed basis; AAC Meeting Minutes⁸ are taken when meetings are held.

Senior Advisory Committee (SAC). The mission of the SAC is to provide guidance and recommend direction to the Park District regarding the development and implementation of recreational activities for senior citizens. The committee has developed the SAC Bylaws⁹ to outline committee roles and responsibilities. The committee is made up of seven voting members (3 are appointed by the Park District Board of Commissioners, 4 are elected by the Active Adult members-at-large) who serve 2 year terms. In addition, up to 2 Park District staff serve as non-voting representatives. The SAC meets approximately every 2 months and SAC Meeting Minutes¹⁰ are taken.

Standard: The agency shall be involved in local planning, e.g. comprehensive planning, strategic planning, and capital improvement planning by reviewing development proposals, monitoring the decisions of planning and zoning boards or commissions and participating on task forces and committees that will impact parks and recreation services within the jurisdiction.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Demonstrate the role of the agency in local planning through personnel assignments and documentation of involvement, e.g. minutes, agendas, and cooperative agreements.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 7 – Planning for Strategic Management, p. 120.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park is actively involved in local planning efforts. The Executive Director typically represents the Park District in working with other governments in planning for the community.

She recently served as a Steering Committee member of the strategic planning process for Oak Park River Forest High School¹. Additionally, she participated in the Parks, Open Space, and Environmental Features portion of the Village of Oak Park comprehensive master planning process², including monitoring the progress of the report and how it would affect the Park District³. She was also a member of the Advisory Committee for the Cook County Forest Preserve's Recreation Master Plan⁴. The Park District was also an active participant in the development of a 10-year Bike Plan⁵ for Oak Park, of which the Executive Director still participates in the roll-out of in conjunction with the Active Transportation Alliance⁶.

2.3.1 - Community Comprehensive Plan with Park and Recreation Component

Standard: The jurisdiction with land use authority within which the agency operates shall have a comprehensive plan adopted by the governing authority that dictates public policy in terms of transportation, utilities, public facilities, land use, recreation, and housing. In some jurisdictions the comprehensive plan is called the general plan or the land use plan. Zoning for the jurisdiction is based upon the comprehensive plan. To meet this standard, the comprehensive plan shall have a park and/or recreation component that discusses how the jurisdiction intends to meet the needs for parkland and public recreation facilities in concert with other land use priorities.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the current plan, with date of official approval.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Village of Oak Park completed its comprehensive plan, entitled "Envision Oak Park," with adoption by the Village Trustees on September 15, 2014. The plan includes a variety of items of importance to the future of the community and its land use, including parks and recreation. Chapter Six of this document, "Parks, Open Space & Environmental Features¹," demonstrates the importance of parks and recreation in the overall development priorities and the metrics that the Village of Oak Park will use in cooperation with other government and community agencies to achieve its goals.

The plan shall be officially adopted by the policy-making body, updated periodically and linked with a capital improvement budget and a phased development program. The system master plan shall implement policies adopted in the comprehensive plan for the jurisdiction. Interested and affected agencies, organizations, and groups shall be engaged in the planning process.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the current plan with documentation of official approval; describe update process; and describe a phased implementation program with linkage to the agency's capital improvement budget. The system master plan shall include:

- a. Agency mission (1.4);
- b. Agency objectives (1.4.1);
- c. Recreation and leisure trends analysis (10.5.1);
- d. Needs assessment (10.4);
- e. Community inventory (10.5.2); and
- f. Level of service standards (10.3.1).

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 7 – Planning for Strategic Management, p. 120.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District completed its Comprehensive Master Plan¹⁻⁷ with adoption by the Board of Commissioners on December 18, 2014. A consulting firm, The Lakota Group, was hired to lead the Park District through the development of the current comprehensive master plan. A website was created for the project which included important updates, links to online surveys, community open house announcements and important planning documents. The consultants, with assistance from staff, collected and analyzed data concerning the Park District's parks, open spaces, and facilities. Additionally, the Park District's parks and facilities were assessed in the context of the Village of Oak Park, the region, and against recreational trends. Many focus groups, individual interviews, and a community-wide needs assessment was completed to gather community input.

All of this information was used to create a strategy and set of priorities for the Park District of Oak Park, including plans for recreation programming and improved parks and facilities. These strategies were incorporated into specific recommendations and objectives were placed into a 10-Year Action Plan which serves as the core of the final Comprehensive Master Plan Report. Staff have begun incorporating the recommendations and objectives from the plan into the Park District's Capital Improvement Plan⁸, which drives the capital improvement budget each year.

2.6 - Feasibility Studies

Standard: Studies shall be conducted to determine the feasibility of proposed facilities.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide examples of recent feasibility studies such as market, cost benefit, site, transportation, environmental and economic analysis.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 11 – Physical Resource Planning, pp. 215-215.

Agency Evidence of Completion:

As stewards of public resources, the Park District strives to ensure that all major projects undertaken are financially sound, environmentally responsible, and are appropriate to the community's needs and wants. To this end, the Park District conducts various studies to determine the feasibility of new recreation services and facility projects as well as renovation and improvements to existing facilities.

When planning a possible facility or park renovation, the Park District may choose to complete an Existing Conditions Study. For example, when determining the best direction to take at the Ridgeland Common park and facility (now the Ridgeland Common Recreation Complex), a thorough Ridgeland Common Existing Conditions Study¹ was done. Once renovation plans were made, a Preliminary Geotechnical Engineering Report² was completed as well. Smaller studies, such as traffic or travel studies may be completed as well, as was the case with the Gymnastics Center Travel Study³.

When investigating the feasibility of a new service or facility, the Park District may choose to create a Pro Forma. When the Park District was trying to determine whether or not it should expand its gymnastics programs and facility operations, a Pro Forma Operation and Financial Analysis Report for a Proposed Expanded Gymnastics Center⁴ was created.

When acquiring or developing a property, the Park District may choose to conduct environmental reviews. For example, when the Park District was purchasing the property at 25 Lake Street, Phase I Environmental Site Assessment⁵ and Phase II Environmental Site Assessment⁶ were completed.

After the Park District ultimately decided to purchase this property, the Board of Commissioners and staff had to determine whether or not it should be used to house an expanded building & grounds facility or an expanded gymnastics center. A Validation Study was completed and a 25 Lake Street Property Validation Study Presentation⁷ was given.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the historical and cultural plan(s).

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

In a community well-known as the 1899 birthplace of author Ernest Hemingway and home to architect Frank Lloyd Wright's Home and Studio, the mix of history and culture plays an important role in the identity of Oak Park.

The Park District of Oak Park owns three historic resources that are listed in the National Register for Historic Places including:

- Oak Park Conservatory, constructed in 1929
- Pleasant Home, constructed in 1897 and designed by noted Prairie School architect George W. Maher
- Scoville Park, constructed in 1913 and designed by famous landscape architect Jens Jensen

In addition to the National Register listing, Pleasant Home is also a National Historic Landmark and 1 of only 86 in Illinois. Several other Park District parks and facilities are part of National Register Historic Districts and/or Village of Oak Park Landmarks. The Park District's 2015-2024 Comprehensive Master Plan contains a Historic Preservation Plan and Recommendations¹.

The Park District of Oak Park is supportive of arts and culture in our parks and facilities and contributing to the overall arts and culture offerings in the community by displaying public works of art and offering artistic and cultural educational and entertainment options to the community. The Village of Oak Park's Envision Oak Park Comprehensive Plan Art and Culture section² outlines the Cultural Plan for Oak Park.

2.9 - Community Involvement ★

Standard: The agency shall include community involvement in the planning process that includes ongoing and systematic outreach to include the entire community. It is critical that the diversity of individuals (i.e., all cultures, ages, and abilities) and local, regional, and national non-governmental community organizations, agencies, businesses, and service providers such as the Red Cross, Sierra Club, Trust for Public Land, YMCA/YWCA, Boys and Girls Club, and local foundations and employers are afforded opportunities for input.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Describe how the diverse interests (community organizations, businesses and individuals) of the community were involved in the planning process.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 11 – Physical Resource Planning, p. 220

Agency Evidence of Completion:

As evidenced by the Park District's mission which begins with "In partnership with the community...", involvement and participation with the local community is highly valued. Anytime that planning processes are undertaken, the Park District seeks community input. The Park District's Procedures for Master Planning Processes¹ includes Community Involvement as an important part of the overall process. Recent examples of community input in planning processes include:

- The Park District 2015-2024 Comprehensive Master Plan process² included a community needs assessment, as well as 8 community focus groups representing over 60 stakeholders, and one-on-one interviews with Park District Board of Commissioners and 4 other additional key community members.
- The Stevenson Park Master Plan process³ included community focus groups (including one specifically for youth that used the park although names are omitted because they are minors), meetings, and surveys.
- The Scoville Park Master Plan process⁴ included community focus groups, meetings, and surveys.
- The Pools Master Plan process⁵ included community meetings and surveys.

The Park District's continual willingness to include public input in its planning processes has also been noticed by local media. Regarding a planning process that did not ultimately result in moving forward, the local newspaper, the Wednesday Journal, noted in their editorial⁶ that the Park District that "...the board and administration have developed an uncanny ear for public input. Whether the issue was large or small, the parks have actively and effectively invited citizens to speak out and then astounded critic by actually listening and adjusting plan."

This set-up allows staff to see up-to-the-minute results of performance measures in nearly all cases, allowing for much more accurate and quicker decision-making.

The charts, graphs, and tables are set up to display data in a variety of ways, including year-to-date, daily, weekly, or monthly results, depending on what is most useful for staff. Additionally, staff have the ability to export the data from the dashboards into PDF reports and Excel spreadsheets for further analysis.

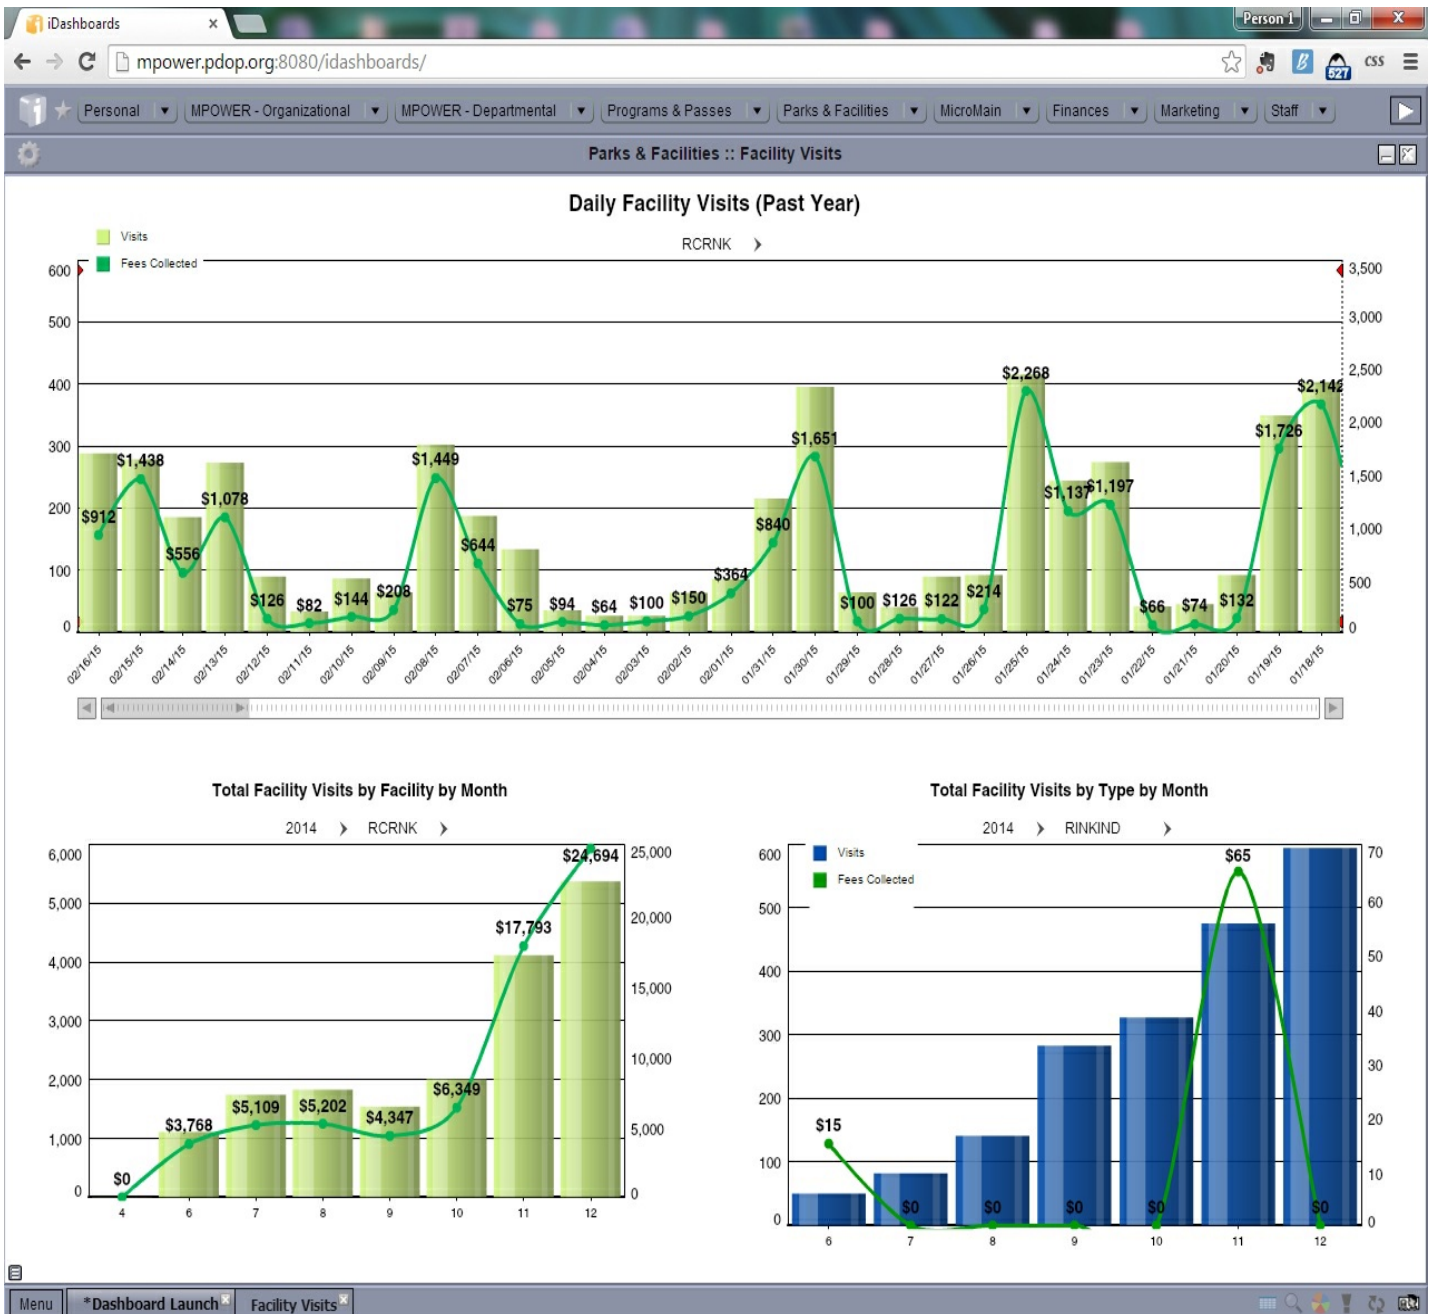

Staff review the dashboards on a regular basis on their own and at staff meetings. Additionally, in some cases, such as with the monthly financial reports, the staff use the dashboard tables to update the Finance Manager on any accounts that are over or under 10% of the budgeted amount.

Additionally, the software programs used by staff have their own ability to produce reports as needed.

The Park District of Oak Park has procedures in place to guide the selection and hiring processes to address the variety of situations, including the hiring of a mix of full-time, part-time, and seasonal staff, as well as a mix of both new hires and rehires. As evidenced in the Procedures for Employee Recruitment¹, before advertising any position opening, the hiring supervisor has the ability to make adjustments and modifications to the position description, including the skills and personal attributes required, in order to fit current business needs. The position description then goes through a series of approvals before being posted as a job opening on the Park District's website.

The next steps in the hiring process are outlined in the Procedures for Applicant Selection and Hiring². All applicants for a position are reviewed, taking into consideration the skills, experience, and educational requirements listed in the job description. The interview process may include a mix of phone and in-person interviews. Questions developed for the interview processes are tailored to the job, but are standardized across all applicants for a position to ensure fairness. References are checked and other screening tests, ranging from skills tests to physical, drug, and various types of background checks, may be required in order to ensure that the candidate is well-suited and eligible for the position.

Human Resources conducts additional screenings, including both Illinois State Police² and national criminal background checks³ and the national sex offender registry checks⁴ for all new and rehired employees, as well as driving record background checks⁵ for employees assigned to operate motor vehicles. If the candidate discloses a civil or criminal offense, or one is discovered through the additional screenings, the Director of Human Resources will assess the infraction taking into consideration factors such as the Park District procedures regarding recommended criteria for disqualification as well as the position applied for to determine whether or not it will disqualify the candidate.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park is committed to the success of the organization and staff. The Organizational Structure¹ is designed to provide appropriate levels of supervision to staff who provide services and maintain facilities.

The Park District provides many tools to make the process of communicating information, expectations, and performance as transparent and as simple as possible. The first step includes an Orientation Presentation² for all new staff to introduce them to the Park District and its policies, procedures, and services offered to the community, as well as for supervisors to learn more about supervisory responsibilities related to topics such as harassment. "The Hub" is home to all of the Park District's policies, procedures, manuals, job descriptions, and other important information. All staff have access to The Hub³ from any device with internet access and a browser and have the ability to use the easy search tool to quickly find the specific information needed. Additionally, agency-wide staff meetings are held in order to share to disseminate important information and review expectations. Senior leadership meetings are held twice a month, management team meetings are held once a month, and all staff meetings are held every other month.

The Park District believes that it is important for staff to receive training on leadership and supervision. Additionally, 2 staff have also graduated from the NRPA Supervisor's Management School at Oglebay. Performance evaluations are a critical part of any supervisory relationship. The Performance Reviews Policy⁶ outlines the performance review requirements for all staff.

Park District policies and procedures also provide direction to supervisors and staff about expectations and personnel processes with examples such as the Non-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy⁸, Pregnancy Non-Discrimination and Accommodation Policy⁹, Disciplinary Actions Policy¹⁰, and Open Door Policy¹¹.

4.7.3 - Supervision and Evaluation of Volunteers

Standard: Agency volunteers shall be monitored, shall receive supervisory visits, and be evaluated regarding performance. The Park District's Procedures for Volunteer Management¹ outline the agency's expectations for supervision of volunteers. All volunteers must report to a full-time staff member at the Park District (except for volunteers for the Friends of Oak Park Conservatory, who report to their Volunteer Coordinator). Volunteers may receive supervision from part-time staff or occasionally other volunteers in certain situations. However, the full-time employee is responsible for volunteer management, including any recognition, mentoring, discipline, and evaluation that may need to take place.

In many cases, such as at special events, training is provided before the event and supervisors are present to check-in and are available in case of any questions. Because these are usually one-time volunteers, no formal evaluation is given.

Conservatory volunteers are monitored and supervised by Park District Conservatory staff, FOPCON Volunteer Coordinator, or experienced volunteers in leadership positions (depending on the nature of the volunteer activity. For these positions, as well as other volunteer positions at the Park District, verbal or written feedback is provided to volunteers as needed. For example, Cheney Mansion has a volunteer docent who received a Cheney Mansion Docent Evaluation².

In the case of our youth sports volunteer coaches, which make up a substantial amount of our volunteer hours, Youth Athletic League Volunteer Coaches receive pre-season training to ensure that all expectations are clear. Park District staff are on-site during games and practices to monitor volunteers. In addition, coaches are evaluated at least once a season using a Coach Evaluation Form³. If issues are identified, staff will meet with the coach. Negative evaluations or recurring issues can lead to termination as well as exclusion from further volunteer coaching in the future.

The Park District frequently procures consultant services for professional services such as comprehensive planning, master planning, architect services, engineering services, marketing studies, and landscape architecture services on an as-needed basis to assist, augment or enhance the capabilities of staff. Park District Board Policy on the Use of Expert Consultants¹ states that the board "shall seek the advice of expert consultants when the Board determines it is appropriate and shall use the advice of those consultants as an aid for Board decision-making."

Recent examples include the firm Altamanu¹, who was recently contracted to provide landscape architecture services for the Carroll Park construction project in 2014. The Park District also hired the Lakota Group³ to lead the comprehensive master planning process in 2014 and Planning Resource Inc.⁴ to conduct park master plan updates for Fox and Longfellow Parks in 2014.

Additionally, the Park District often works with independent contractors to provide specialized services as program instructors. The Park District has developed an Independent Contractor Guide⁵ who are interested in offering recreation services at the Park District. These contractors are required to comply with all Park District rules and regulations and other provisions in the Standard Independent Contractor Instructor Agreement.⁶

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 19 – Financial Management, pp. 500-515.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District's Revenue Policy¹ establishes the types of revenues the Park District will collect and is the basis of accounting. The policy on Fees and Charges² further details the fees and charges that the Park District will administer. These policies are reviewed and updated as part of the review of the entire set of Park District policies, which last took place in December 2014 when they were approved by the Park District Board of Commissioners³.

Potential increases in fees and charges are reviewed on an annual basis. Increases to fees and charges are based on numerous factors including the consumer price index (CPI), changes in staff costs, and estimated increases for contractual services and material and supplies. These factors are weighted based on their percentage of the overall Park District budget to create a blended increase in fees and charges. This information is shared with staff as part of the Park District of Oak Park Budget Guidelines⁴. The most recent update of the budget guidelines was completed in July 2014 in preparation for the development of the 2015 budget.

During the budget process, staff enter notes⁵ regarding their proposed budgets, including an explanation of fee and charge increases. In this area, they outline fee increase amounts and explain any fee increases that are below or above the recommended organizational fee increase included in the budget guidelines.

5.1.4 - Private, Corporate, and Non-Profit Support Procedures

Standard: Where feasible and appropriate, the agency shall solicit private, corporate, and non-profit support to supplement agency funding through an established procedure to research, coordinate and implement alternative funding options. Prior to acceptance of support the agency shall evaluate the terms of acceptance and how the implementation and management process will be coordinated.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the procedure to solicit private, corporate and non-profit support along with a summary of such support received by the agency for the past five years including identification of the following: project descriptions, grantor/sponsor, date awarded, and value of the contribution and method of recognition.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park consistently reviews possible support opportunities from private, corporate, and non-profit entities. The Park District provides numerous opportunities for organizations and individual to support the organization in variety of ways ranging from event sponsorships to dasher board sales at the ice rink to private donations. The Park District has developed policies and procedures to guide staff through this process that outline how the Park District should request aid, the criteria to be a sponsor, and payment requirements for sponsors and donors.

The Sponsorship Policy¹ explains the difference between a sponsorship and a donation, sets guidelines for acceptable sponsorships, determines staff approval levels and sets limits on a sponsor's commercial advertisements as they relate to the sponsorship. The Procedures for Securing a Sponsor² provides additional direction to staff regarding the basic steps required to secure a sponsorship. The Agency Gift Acceptance Policy³ provides guidance to the Board and staff regarding the acceptance of gifts (any form of cash, tangible property, real estate, or miscellaneous charitable items that do not fall within the parameters of the Park District's Sponsorship Policy).

The Park District actively pursues support of this type from the community. The Sponsorship and Ad Sales⁴ spreadsheets include the total sponsorships, dasherboard sales, and ad sales secured by the Park District in the past five years. Sample Sponsorship and Ad Sales Agreements⁵ demonstrate examples of recognition methods.

The Park District has also received additional support in the forms of financial donations. For example:

- In 2010, a private donor gave $90,000, which was combined with a gift of $140,000 from the Friends of Oak Park Conservatory (FOPCON), for the construction of the Conservatory Garden. Per the agreement⁵, the garden was named after a family member of the donor who had substantial ties to the Conservatory and a marker commemorating the donation was place.
- In 2012, a private donor gave $54,000 to the agency to the Cheney Mansion south garden restoration project. Per the agreement⁶, the Park District added and will maintain a marker in the South Garden to commemorate the gift.

- In 2014, the Friends of the Oak Park Conservatory donated $200,000 raised from fundraising and individual donors to fund the creation of the East Avenue Garden⁷.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

Park District of Oak Park purchasing is guided by its purchasing policies and procedures, all of which are in compliance with the Illinois Procurement Code (30 ILCS 500). The Procurement Policy¹ sets forth the overall requirements for staff in regards to purchasing, including bidding requirements, requests for quotations, as well as programs to encourage the purchase of environmentally-friendly products and locally-purchased products. Staff have outlined the Procedures for Bidding of Products and Services² in which the Park District will spend over $20,000 on in a given year. These procedures also indicate the standards under which a prospective bidder is judged.

The Board of Commissioners have also adopted a Payments Policy³ that creates the foundation for both the use of petty cash and procurement cards. The Procedures for Procurement Cards⁴ (or P-Cards, as they are often called at the Park District) outlines the accepted uses of procurement cards, the purchase approval process, as well as the process to be followed if a procurement card is lost or stolen. Park District Procedures for Emergency Purchases¹ provide direction to staff on what constitutes an "emergency" as well as the how to handle purchasing to address the situation. For example, in an emergency, staff can forgo bidding and informal quote requirements.

The Procedures for Supplemental/Emergency Appropriations² addresses the processes and requirements staff must take if the emergency purchase would incur more costs than budgeted in that specific line. If the cost would not affect the overall budget, a budget transfer can be requested. If the emergency purchase(s) incur a cost higher than what can be transferred from other budget lines, staff can get retroactive formal approval of the Board of Commissioners through a budget amendment.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 20 – Budgeting, pp. 572-576.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park has procedures in place for the collecting, safeguarding, and disbursing of Park District funds to ensure proper internal controls are followed.

The Park District follows the budget and appropriation ordinance model set forth by the Illinois Park District Code using the Procedures for Budget Process¹. The Park District legally appropriates funds for the continuing operations of the Park District based on the its working budget. If spending levels are to exceed the budgeted amount or an emergency occurs staff follows Procedures for Supplemental/Emergency Appropriations².

To ensure the Board of Commissioners and staff are monitoring the financial condition of the district, the Park District sets out specific procedures for the preparation of financial statements on a monthly basis in the Procedures for Monthly Financial Reports³.

Cash handling is an important aspect of the Park District's daily operations. To ensure cash handling procedures are being followed the Park District completes internal cash audits on a random basis as stated in the Procedures for Cash Handling⁴. The disbursement of funds and acceptance of funds are another potential area of risk to the Park District. Due to this, these procedures dictate that only Customer Service staff are able to accept funds. Additionally, the disbursements of funds can only be approved with the consent of at least two of the following: Executive Director, Director of Finance, or Finance Manager. This applies to wire transfers, payroll, as well as payment of accounts payable bills as shown in the Procedures for Payroll Processing⁵, Procedures for Bill Payment⁶, and Procedures for Wire Transfers⁷.

The Board of Commissioners first reviews³ the recommended budget guidelines developed by staff in the Business Operations department to be used in budget creation, including information about the tax levy, wage and material and supply increases, and capital transfers.

These guidelines help ensure uniformity across the Park District when it comes to expense increases. The Board of Commissioners also reviews the recommended budget timeline that sets the schedule and deadlines for staff during the entire budgeting process.

- a. Assessment of current and future personnel needs;
- b. Costs per program element;
- c. Line items.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park's annual budget is deeply rooted in the recommendations of each of its departments. As evidenced in the Park District's annual budget timeline¹, after budget training, staff make recommendations for each line item through the Park District's financial software. As part of this process, staff are asked to determine and enter anticipated revenues and set prices, assess personnel needs, contractual needs, and material and supply needs into MSI (financial software). The majority of the work completed in the budget development process takes place within MSI in order to ensure accuracy and save on paper costs. Once completed, access to edit the budget recommendations within the software is removed. Detailed Budget Reports displaying each department's recommendations are e-mailed²⁻⁴ to Department Heads as well as the Executive Director prior to department budget meetings.

At the individual department budget meetings, Department Heads and Managers meet with the Finance Director, Finance Manager, and Executive Director. Any agreed upon adjustments to the department's recommendations made at these meetings are then entered into MSI by the Business Operations Department. Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District follows its Procedure on Monthly Financial Reports¹ in regards to budget controls and monthly reporting of revenues and expenditures. Park District financial information is made available to staff on its dashboards² and those responsible for budget lines must report to the Finance Manager each month any overages or shortages in their budget that are more than 10% above or below the budgeted allocation. These reports are then reviewed by the Business Operations department and any pertinent findings are forwarded to the Executive Director. The Board of Commissioners also receives financial reports³⁻⁵ each month in their board packets.

6.1.5 - Facilitated Programs and Services

Standard: The agency shall facilitate assistance to individuals and groups of individuals that provide or want to provide recreation programs and leisure services independently from the agency. An example of facilitated programs and services is an individual or group that wishes to start a community theater organization; the agency may help initially by providing a meeting place, some administrative help in publicity, and "seed money" with the intent that the organization will become self-sustaining. Demonstration projects may be utilized for this purpose.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide examples of how the agency provides facilitated recreation opportunities, including a list of such opportunities.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 9 – Program Services and Event Management, pp. 161-162.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

As outlined in the mission, the Park District of Oak Park, "in partnership with the community," offers a variety of facilitated recreation opportunities. Staff work with many local organization to offer quality programs for the community. Depending on the relationship, the Park District may assist with marketing through inclusion in the quarterly brochure, use of Park District parks and facilities, assistance with completing volunteer background checks, and other support.

In order to ensure an equitable distribution of resources, the Park District created the PACT program. The PACT program categorizes community organizations requesting support from the Park District and provides facility use and other support according the guidelines¹ in the program. A current list of PACT organization is available on the Park District's website². Another example of an organization that the Park District supports is Oak Park Festival Theatre³, which receives financial support as well as use of one of the Park District's parks to house its outdoor productions of Shakespeare plays each summer.

Examples of facilitated programs and services include:

- youth baseball/softball organizations
- youth soccer organizations
- youth football organization
- adult tennis organization
- scout groups
- civic groups
- Oak Park Festival Theatre

6.1.6 - Cooperative Programming

Standard: The agency shall enter into cooperative agreements with public, commercial, and nonprofit entities to provide programming.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide current examples of cooperative programming with documentation, such as Memoranda of Understanding (MOU), Memoranda of Agreement (MOA), or partnership agreements.

6.2 - Program Objectives ★

Standard: There shall be specific objectives established for programs and services that are reviewed periodically. Objectives shall be specific and measurable as to the actual outcome or impact desired by the program or service so that progress on meeting objectives can be evaluated (see standard 10.2 Outcomes Assessment). Objectives shall be defined by program area, such as nature, dance, music, sports, fitness, special events and they can be further defined into levels such as beginner, intermediate and advanced.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide measurable objectives for each program and service area and the last review.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 9 – Program Services and Event Management, pp. 165-172.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District has specific defined metrics for overall programming at the Park District through the performance measurement program. Results are reviewed throughout the year and evaluated as part of the Performance Measurement Annual Report¹. All of the metrics that are tracked agency-wide are also able to be drilled down to area-specific results through the Park District's dashboards.

Additionally, overall programming objectives and defined objectives defined by the recreation programming team for each programming area are included in the Recreation Programming Plan². The objectives were last reviewed with the development of the 2015-2019 Recreation Programming Plan.

6.3 - Scope of Program Opportunities

Standard: The content of agency programs shall be related directly to stated program objectives and shall provide for individual differences of interests, abilities (mental, social, physical), and backgrounds. Activities selected shall be suited to and contribute toward fulfillment of the basic physical, emotional, social, and intellectual requirements of individuals. The agency should take into consideration the total community offerings; some opportunities may be offered by other organizations, private, public, and non-profit.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide a matrix or listing of programs by fields, demonstrating clearly how the agency provides opportunities for proficiency levels, socioeconomic levels, racial and ethnic backgrounds, ages, and genders.

6.3.1 - Outreach to Diverse Underserved Populations

Standard: The agency shall proactively extend programs and services to residents who may be underserved in the community. To encourage participation in parks and recreation programs and services, agencies shall identify and address barriers that may limit access including physical, social and mental abilities and financial, geographic and cultural barriers. Financial barriers may be addressed through reduced fees and scholarships. Agencies should offer inclusionary support services to ensure access to programs and services for people of all abilities and socioeconomic status.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Identify underserved populations (provide methodology and data used for this analysis), describe specific barriers within the community that limit participation and provide examples of outreach programs and services offered by the agency to meet the needs of these populations and overcome barriers to access.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 8 – Recreation Program Planning, p. 139; Chapter 9 – Program Services and Event Management, p. 177.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District strives to serve all residents and makes a special effort to identify and reach out to underserved groups including those with the following potential barriers:

a. Financial. Through 2010 Census data, the Park District of Oak Park knows that just under 6% of families (just under 1,300) in Oak Park live under the poverty level. The Park District has a scholarship program to assist these families. The Park District reaches out to the local school district and has attended school staff meetings in the past to explain the scholarship program. Additionally, the scholarship brochure¹ and application² were distributed through the school district's digital backpack and directly to families that are part of the school district's free and reduced lunch program. Efforts like these have led to an increase in the number of scholarships awarded in recent years as evidenced by reports³ from the Park District's registration software.

- 2014 - $32,363.00
- 2013 - $23,176.25
- 2012 - $9,947.50

b. Disabilities. The Park District is a member of the West Suburban Special Recreation Association (WSSRA). The Park District supports WSSRA financially⁴, providing a representative to serve on the Board of Directors⁵, and by providing park and facility space for some of their programs. This ensures that Oak Park residents have access to WSSRA programs in their community. The current WSSRA Program Guide⁶ shows the current program offerings (Oak Park residents are welcome to register for any WSSRA programs at locations in any community) as well as the locations of programs specifically in Oak Park⁷.

WSSRA also assists the Park District by providing inclusion services, from training⁸ for Park District staff on inclusion techniques to providing trained inclusion aides when additional support is needed.

c. Geographical. Despite having a population of over 50,000, Oak Park is only 4.7 square miles and all portions of the community are served by sidewalks. Therefore, there are not the same geographical barriers that may exist in other communities. However, in order to ensure that this is the case, the Park District routinely maps out target markets to learn where program participants reside within the community⁹. Through this analysis, the Park District has learned that when multiple location options are available, customers tend to choose one on the same side (north or south) of Oak Park in which they reside, but that this north/south barrier does not seem to stop anyone from registering if only one location is available (there is an equal distribution throughout the community). No other geographical trends have been identified.

Additionally, the Park District has looked at the issue of equity in geographical access to parks and playgrounds¹⁰. Through investigation, it has found that there are only a few very small gaps, mostly located along the perimeter of the Village of Oak Park that are more than 0.5 miles from a park or playground.

Recent examples of research in this area were included in the Park District's 2015-2024 Comprehensive Master Plan.

6.4 - Community Education for Leisure Process

Standard: The agency shall have a process to educate the general citizenry about the use of leisure time and the outcomes, benefits, values, and positive impacts of leisure and recreation services. The process shall be periodically evaluated for effectiveness. Educating the public about leisure and recreation shall be ongoing and systematic and should be done in cooperation with the community, e.g., schools, other leisure agencies, business, industry, and commercial recreation establishments.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide examples of the methods utilized by the agency to educate the community on the benefits, values, and impacts of leisure and recreation services to a diverse range of participants and non-participants. Provide the last review of effectiveness.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 9 – Program Services and Event Management, pp. 172-174.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park has implemented a number of strategies designed to educate the community about the use and benefits of leisure. For example:

- The Park District has created a document regarding the "Impact of Parks & Recreation¹" on the Oak Park community which is distributed to Park District partners, community leaders, reporters, citizen committee members and others to orientate and educate them.
- The benefits of parks and recreation are often included in program descriptions² included in the Park District's program guide.
- The Park District promotes the benefits of recreation on its website³.
- Through the Park District's Program & Event evaluation tool, customers are asked for quote about their experiences in our programs. These testimonials⁴ are used in Park District marketing efforts and in other areas to demonstrate the benefits of parks and recreation.
- The Park District used benefits language to promote summer camps on a flyer⁵ sent to every household in Oak Park as part of the Village of Oak Park FYI Newsletter.

6.4.1 - Community Health and Wellness Education and Promotion

Standard: The agency shall have policies, procedures, or programs to educate and promote health and wellness in the community.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the agency's policies, procedures, or programs to educate and promote health and wellness in the community such as:

- a. Physical activity;
- b. Healthy food and beverage offerings;
- c. Nutrition education;
- d. Substance abuse prevention.

Also provide examples of implementation.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park works to educate and promote health and wellness in the community.

One of the best examples includes the active programs provided by the Park District in each Program Guide. In fact, in the Spring 2015 Program Guide¹, the Park District offers 43 pages of activities that encourage the community to be more active through sports, fitness, martial arts, and other wellness-related programs.

Additionally, the Park District promotes self-guided physical fitness using Park District parks and facilities. For example, the Park District has created Walking Path Cards² that show the distances of walking paths available in Park District parks. This information is also posted on the Park District website³.

The Park District has Procedures for Snacks in Park District Programs⁴, which outlines healthier options for snacks to be served or shared with participants in Park District programs

When the Park District entered into a new Vending Agreement⁵ in 2014, attention was paid to making sure that healthy options were included in the offerings for facility visitors.

The Park District participates in a community-wide effort called "Wild About Wellness." The group has already created multiple resources, including a Healthy Snacking Guide⁶ and a Healthy Recipe Video⁷.

6.5 - Participant and Spectator Code of Conduct

Standard: The agency shall have “code of conduct” guidelines for appropriate participant and spectator conduct at programs and events, and the agency shall proactively inform and remind staff, coaches, participants and spectators about the code of conduct.

Suggested Evident of Compliance: Provide the code of conduct for participants and spectators and describe how program participants, coaches, and spectators are informed of the code of conduct. The agency should collaborate with affiliate groups providing training for youth and coaches to inform and educate about the participant and spectator code of conduct.

DPRAC - 5.10.1 Code of Conduct

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park provides a code of conduct to players, parents, and coaches for our youth sports leagues. The code is presented at coaches' training¹ and emailed to all the parents of the children participating in the leagues. Additionally, the code is displayed on the Park District's youth sports league page on the website². Parents are asked to review the information with their child and to have both sign an agreement that they will abide by the code³⁻⁴. While adult sports league participants are much less likely to have spectators present, player and spectator code of conduct is mentioned in the league manuals⁵⁻⁶.

The Park District also provides the code of conduct to the affiliate organizations and asks that they distribute to their participants. The training for the code of conduct is provided to the leadership of the affiliate groups at PACT meetings⁷. The code of conduct was introduced to the affiliate groups for the fall 2014 season. The affiliate groups are asked to provide copies to their participants as well as cover it during their coach's trainings.

7.1 - Parkland Acquisition Procedures

Standard: The agency shall have established policies and procedures for the acquisition of lands for park, recreation, conservation, and historical-cultural purposes that are backed by legal authority and periodically reviewed. This authority usually originates in state enabling acts, is delegated to local governments and is implemented through local charters and ordinances.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide policy and procedures for land acquisition, the citation of legal authority to acquire lands, and last review.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 11 – Physical Resource Planning, pp. 207-229.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The authority for Park Districts in the state of Illinois to acquire lands for park, recreation, conservation, and historical-cultural purposes comes from Article 8 of the State of Illinois' Park Code 70 ILCS 1205¹.

Park District Policy on Land Acquisition² grants authority to and sets guidelines for the Board when the acquisition of additional land is being discussed. When determining whether or not to acquire new land, the policy states that the Board should consider the following questions:

1. Will the acquisition and proposed use of the land significantly enhance the recreation and leisure activities that the District can provide to residents?
2. Is the acquisition, development, and maintenance of the land not inconsistent with the District's 5-Year Capital Projects Plan?
3. Can the acquisition, development, and maintenance of the land be undertaken without violating Board fiscal and funding policies?
4. If funding requirements cannot be met with currently available financing mechanisms, has public approval via voter referendum been obtained?

This policy is reviewed at least biennially by Park District staff and the Board as part of the regular review process of all Park District policies and was last re-approved in December 2014³.

The Procedures for Land Acquisition⁴ state that the discussion regarding the potential acquisition of land takes place during the Executive Session portion of a board meeting. Once the Board of Commissioners are ready to make a determination, they give direction to the Executive Director to take action on the acquisition during an open meeting.

7.2 - Areas and Facilities Development Policies and Procedures

Standard: The agency shall have established policies and procedures for the development of park and recreation land and facilities that are reviewed periodically. Policies and procedures should consider market projections, applicable open space and design standards and coordination with overall planning for the jurisdiction.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide land development policies and procedures, with the last review.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 11 – Physical Resource Planning, pp. 230-236.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The development of park and recreation land and facilities are guided by District policies, plans, and procedures. Per the Park District's Park Master Plans Policy¹, all land controlled by the Park District shall serve an intended purpose which provides public benefit. Prior to committing to the development of a previously undeveloped space or redeveloping a park in a way which would significantly change its previous use and purpose, the Board of Commissioners will review and approve a Park Master Plan.

The policy further requires that the Park District will take into consideration recommendations and standards in planning documents along with other available information and community feedback to develop a park master plan. This includes current community plans, the Park District's comprehensive master plan including the Level of Service standards, equity maps, and other demographic projections and recreation trends. These steps are outlined in the Procedures for Park Master Planning Processes².

The policy also dictates that the Park District will undertake a thorough review of each master plan at least as often as every 10 years.

This policy was last reviewed as part of the overall policy manual review which was outlined in a Policy Manual Review Memo³ presented to the Board of Commissioners at the December 4, 2014 Committee of the Whole Meeting. The Memo Regarding Procedures Update⁴ was written regarding the recent update to the procedures.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Submit completed checklists, digital images and site reports as evidence of completion of the access audit.

7.3 - Defense Against Encroachment Procedures

Standard: The agency shall have procedures for protecting park and recreation lands and facilities from encroachment. The procedures should include progressive steps to address escalated encroachment issues.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the procedures regarding defense against encroachment.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 11 – Physical Resource Planning, pp. 208 and 224.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

Given the urban environment of Oak Park, the Park District only operates developed facilities that are surrounded on all sides by existing streets, alleys, or residences. Because of this, encroachment usually takes the form of residents or park patrons attempting to use peripheral areas as parking places, or as buffer areas in which they attempt to plant flower or vegetable gardens. Regardless, the Park District takes all encroachment on park land seriously and follows the Policy on Encroachment and Easements¹ as well as the Procedure on Defense Against Encroachment² when a violation occurs.

7.4 - Disposal of Lands Procedures

Standard: The agency shall have established procedures regarding the disposal of park and recreation lands to ensure that public recreational benefits are not diminished through the sale or transfer of parkland.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the procedures for disposal of park and recreation land.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 11 – Physical Resource Planning, pp. 208, 210-213; Chapter 12 – Physical Resource Management, p. 250; Chapter 13 – Management Operations, pp. 286 and 290.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District's authority to sell, lease, or exchange land comes from Section 7 of Article 10 of the Illinois Park Code (70 ILCS 1205)¹ which authorizes the Park District Board (in summary):

- To sell, lease, or give real estate to other government entities for public use,
- To exchange a property to a non-governmental entity for other real property of equal or greater value with the same or greater suitability for park purposes without additional cost to the Park District,
- To lease a property the Board deems is not required for park and recreational purposes to any individual or entity,
- To sell a property no longer needed or useful for park purposes by adopting a resolution by four-fifths vote and then have the sale approved by a majority of voters at a regular election.

Park District Sale of Real Estate and Excess Property Policy² grants authority to and sets guidelines for the Board regarding the sale of real estate, directing them to follow the current Illinois laws. 7.5 - Maintenance and Operations Management Standards ★

Standard: The agency shall have established maintenance and operations standards that are reviewed periodically for management of all park and recreation areas and facilities, including specialty facilities such as marinas, ice rinks, golf courses, zoological facilities, equestrian facilities, aquatic or athletic facilities, nature centers, where applicable. Parks, facilities and other recreational elements should be identified according to the intended use of the area, ranging from heavily used and high developed areas to those that are lightly used and less developed via a park classification or maintenance classification system. Each of these areas should be assigned an appropriate set of maintenance standards including both recommended frequency and acceptable quality.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the maintenance standards for all parks, facilities and specialty areas, including evidence of park maintenance classification according to the intended use of the area, ranging from heavily used and high developed areas to those that are lightly used and less developed. Provide the most recent review or update.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

As good stewards of the public trust, the Park District of Oak Park is committed to preserving and protecting the significant investment in capital and assets the citizens of Oak Park have made. The Park District has developed maintenance and operations standards for its grounds¹ and special facilities²⁻³. Each of these documents were updated in 2014 (exact date is listed on each cover sheet). Memos⁴⁻⁶ were written to share the updates with staff after the plans were completed.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District has many policies and procedures to ensure that expectations are clear for staff regarding the proper use of agency-owned equipment, materials, tools, and supplies.

The Park District Property Policy¹ outlines that Park District property may not be used by anyone for personal use. Further, it reinforces that equipment such as vehicles, desks, lockers, computers, etc., even when assigned to an employee, remains the property of the Park District and are subject to search at any time, as are any packages, bags, etc. that are carried to and from Park District premises. It also directs staff to immediately report loss, damages, or theft of Park District property.

The Park District's Proper Dress and Appearance Policy² indicates that the use of safety equipment and clothing may be required for certain jobs. It also covers expectations regarding employee uniforms, nametags and other Park District logo items. The Park District's Electronic Communication Policy³ describes expectations regarding the proper and safe use of technology, including computers, phones, software, e-mail, etc.

Safety Manual Section 9.00 - Training⁴ reinforces that proper training of all employees is required in the areas of safety and risk management, including orientations regarding safety and health rules, processes to report employee injuries, how to complete accident and incident reports, vehicle requirements, and reporting of unsafe conditions.

The Park District has many procedures concerning the proper use, maintenance and storage of equipment. Examples include:

- Procedures for Chainsaw Operation⁵

- Procedures for Chipper Operation⁶
- Procedures for Lift Truck Operation⁷

The Park District's Travel and Vehicle Use Policy⁸ states the rules employees are expected to follow when conducting Park District business, both in a Park District and in a private vehicle. Procedures for Vehicle Operation⁹ instruct staff on how to safely and properly operate a Park District vehicle. In order to ensure that Park District drivers have the ability to safely operate a vehicle, an annual Driver's Challenge has been created. The Procedures for the Driver's Challenge¹⁰ explain the purpose and process to complete the Driver's Challenge.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

It is the goal of the Park District to provide training and resources to staff to ensure a quality and safe experience for both staff and the community. One component of this training covers policies and procedures related to public safety and law enforcement. Because of the variety of staff, programs, parks, and facilities in the park system, aspects of training in this area are covered throughout the year in various settings.

All staff receive a general overview of situations where police may need to be called, including specifically, Violence in the Workplace, Critical Incident Communication, and Suspicious Individuals, as part of the Orientation Presentation¹ led by the HR & Safety Risk Manager.

An in-service training² was conducted in association with an All-Staff meeting. This topic is also covered at specific trainings related to each area at the Park District either as its own separate training, or for seasonal operations, often as a portion of a larger training plan, including Pool Staff Training³, Ice Rink Staff Training⁴, Community Center Staff Training⁵, and Camp Staff Training⁶. Additionally, the Park District conducts Lock-down Drills⁷ in cooperation with the Oak Park Police Department throughout the year.

8.4.3 - Traffic Control, Parking Plans, and Crowd Control

Standard: The agency shall coordinate with the official law enforcement agency having jurisdiction on large-scale events hosted or facilitated by the agency that require planning and coordination of traffic, parking and crowd control. Plans shall specifically define the roles of the event sponsor, agency staff, and the law enforcement agency regarding traffic layouts at the venue, traffic routes and personnel assignments.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide a recent example of coordination with law enforcement on traffic control, parking plans and crowd control for activities and events hosted or facilitated by the agency.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 22 – Law Enforcement and Security, pp. 624-637.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District has developed an overall plan and procedures for addressing traffic, parking, and crowd control at large events¹. In Oak Park, the responsibility for traffic and crowd control measures falls to the organizer of the event, including securing permits for street closures, developing traffic plans, and planning for traffic enforcement by assigning staff or volunteers and/or hiring police officers to assist.

For example, at the Park District's largest annual event, the Frank Lloyd Wright Races, a staff member is assigned as Race Marshal, which includes responsibilities² for:

- communicating equipment and personnel needs from the Village of Oak Park Public Works & Police Department, including meeting with both
- ensuring course map is accurate
- ensuring that parking restriction signage is created and displayed in an appropriate time frame before the event
- ensuring that lead and trail vehicles are coordinated, properly labeled and trained in order to protect race participants while on the closed streets
- supervises course security assignment, including assignment of security at intersections, and training of the security staff and volunteers

A Course Security Map³ has been developed to show where volunteers, staff, and police are stationed throughout the course. This not only assists course security in knowing where to go, but also assists emergency response efforts if course security reports an incident.

Communication and coordination with the police took place before, during, and after the event as evidenced by examples of e-mail chains regarding Initial Coordination with Police⁴, Officer Commitment and Pre-Race Inspection⁵, and Post-Race Communication and Evaluation⁶.

Signage and Race Information Handouts⁷ were developed and posted to assist with crowd control.

Parking information was included on the race website's FAQ, as well as mentioned in the Pre-Race Participant Email⁸ that was sent to all participants before race weekend.

8.4.4 - Handling of Evidentiary Items Procedures

Standard: Procedures shall be established that guide agency staff in the preservation and handling of evidence until transferred to the appropriate law enforcement authority. Procedures shall be established in coordination with the appropriate law enforcement agencies to define staff roles in ensuring that evidentiary items are preserved until the proper law enforcement agency assumes command of the scene.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the procedures defining the role and responsibility of agency staff in the discovery, preservation and handling of evidentiary items.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 22 – Law Enforcement and Security, pp. 622-623.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District has established Procedures regarding Responding to the Scene of a Crime¹, which includes the handling of evidentiary items. These procedures are included in the Park District's General Security Plan². Responsibility for preserving the scene and/or the evidence falls to the employee until law enforcement arrives. If possible, staff should not disturb the scene or items and should instead just work to ensure no public or staff enter the area. Guidelines are also given for what staff should do if the evidence must be moved because the scene cannot be secured as well as special consideration if drugs or weapons are found.

Standard: The agency shall have a comprehensive general security plan addressing areas, buildings and facilities under its jurisdiction that is updated periodically. Plans for each major area, building or facility should be available at each site. The general security plan may be a compilation of security plans from each major area, building or facility. Hazardous or flammable materials storage areas should be clearly identified in plans and at each specific site. Signage at each site should be installed in accordance with the unified signage system. To be effective, the security plan should be updated when a new area, building or facility is added, security systems are modified or when legislation requires change.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the agency's general security plan or compilation of security plans from each major area, building or facility with the most recent review or update. At a minimum, these plans should include:

- a. Locking key systems and associated assignments;
- b. Alarm system and assignment of security codes;
- c. Opening and closing procedures;
- d. Fire alarm and fire suppression systems;
- e. Emergency evacuation procedures; and
- f. Critical incident response procedures.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 22 – Law Enforcement and Security, pp. 627-637.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District has developed a General Security Plan¹ to outline security procedures and practices related to agency parks and facilities. Specifically, the plan addresses:

- Preventative security measures
- Enforcement of Rules, Regulations, Ordinances, and Laws by staff and law enforcement
- Facility access measures, including locks and alarm systems
- Facility security measures, including communication systems, security camera, and fire alarms and fire suppression systems
- Traffic and parking control procedures
- Hazardous chemicals information related to the Park District's HAZCOM Plan²
- Opening and closing procedures
- Responding to the scene of a crime
- Emergency Evacuations
- Emergency Action Plans for critical incident response

The General Security Plan was last reviewed and updated in January 2015 as evidenced by the memo regarding General Security Plan Update³ and posted on The Hub for staff viewing.

Roles may vary depending on the scope of services provided by the agency and the location of its facilities. Recreation agencies, having roles in emergency management systems within their local jurisdiction, shall be aware of the applicable operations plan. The agency's specialized staff, buildings and equipment may be integral to the plan and may be deployed in the event of a large-scale emergency. The U. S. Office of Homeland Security provides guidance and support for the preparation and maintenance of emergency management plans.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the applicable emergency management plan with the most recent date of approval. If, due to security concerns, the emergency management plan is not available for public review, provide the emergency management plan table of contents.

8.6.1 - In-Service Training for Staff on General Security and Emergency Management

Standard: Through in-service training, agency personnel shall understand their role in ongoing security and emergency management. In-service training should inform staff of their role in response to critical incidents and emergencies and provide specific procedures for routine operations.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide documentation of in-service training programs on general security and emergency management, including a dated outline of the presentation topics and a roster of participants.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 22 – Law Enforcement and Security, p. 636.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park offers programs and services in a wide-variety of settings. The topic of security and emergency management, including specifically, Violence in the Workplace, Critical Incident Communication, and Suspicious Individuals, is introduced to each employee as part of the Orientation Presentation¹ led by the HR & Safety Risk Manager. Specific training related to each area at the Park District is then provided to staff, either as its own separate training, or for seasonal operations, often as a portion of a larger training plan, including Pool Staff Training², Rink Supervisor In-Service³, Community Center Staff Training⁴, and Camp Staff Training⁵. Beginning in 2015, the Park District will also be conducting lock-down exercises⁶ with the Oak Park Police Department to train staff and assess readiness for this type of emergency situation. The agendas for each will be similar to the Gymnastics & Recreation Center Lock Down Exercise⁷.

8.6.3 - Care and Shelter Procedures

Standard: There shall be procedures to coordinate with agencies designated to provide care and shelter to those in need during disasters or emergencies.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide procedures to coordinate with agencies designated to provide care and shelter during emergencies.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District has agreements with a variety of agencies within the community to provide care and shelter to those in need during disasters or emergencies. When assistance with a community-wide emergency is needed, the Village of Oak Park takes the lead in coordinating the response effort and in notifying the Park District of the situation. In some situations, it is as simple as the Park District posting flyers in its facilities notifying patrons of locations of warming or cooling shelters¹. In more extreme community emergencies, Park District facilities have been designated to serve as the mortuary, as referenced in the Village of Oak Park Emergency Operation Plan², which includes the procedures community leadership should follow in the case of such an event.

Additionally, the Park District's Ridgeland Common Recreation Complex is a designated shelter for the nearby Oak Park River Forest High School³ in the event that the school needs to be evacuated due to an emergency.

9.1.1 - Risk Management Plan and Procedures ★

Standard: The agency shall have an established risk management plan and operating procedures that are reviewed periodically, accessible to all agency personnel and approved by the proper authority that encompasses analysis of risk exposure, control approaches and financial and operational impact for the agency. The plan shall analyze the programs/services offered and facilities/areas managed for personal injury and financial loss potential and identify approaches to manage such injury, loss, and business and operational impact.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the current risk management plan with approval by the proper authority, the most recent review, and indication of how the plan and procedures are available to staff. The risk management plan shall reflect all three phases of risk management:

- b. Response strategies; and
- c. Management planning.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 21 – Risk Management, pp. 583-596.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District's approach to risk management has two major components. First, the Park District undergoes a Loss Control Review every 3 years through the Park District Risk Management Agency (PDRMA). The Loss Control Review is essentially a third-party audit and serves as a measuring tool to identify how the Park District's risk management operations are measuring against industry standards. The review assesses administration, aquatics, ice rink, park maintenance, recreation, and special recreation. Risk management consultants conduct the process with Park District staff to evaluate, develop, maintain, and enhance risk management best practices over a minimum of three visits.

The second component is made up of the Park District's Safety Policies¹ and Safety Manual² that communicates risk exposure to staff and risk prevention and response procedures and establishes an internal safety committee made up of staff representatives throughout the Park District. The Safety Manual and safety policies are updated at least every two years and approved by the Board of Commissioners. All staff have access to the policies and the manual through The Hub.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park evaluates services and operations both through standardized agency-wide evaluations as well as more in-depth reports and evaluations.

The Park District currently has the following evaluations, which are distributed to customers and staff on an on-going basis throughout the year.

- a. Program & Event Evaluation. This evaluation¹ addresses the participants' experience attending a program or event, including the registration process, location, program content, instructor/staff, price, and overall experience. This evaluation is available online for program and event participants to fill out via a link on our website. Additionally, staff e-mail the evaluation to a sample of participants from the Park District's registration system. Evaluations are also collected by staff who will visit program sites with a tablet and ask for responses in person.

- b. Park & Facility Visit Evaluation. This evaluation² addresses the visitors' experience during a recent visit to a park or facility, including reason for visit, amenities used, park/facility appearance, convenience, staff, safety, cleanliness, parking, and overall experience as well as questions about specific features at the park or facility such as playgrounds, athletic spaces, pools, etc. This evaluation is available online for park and facility visitors to fill out via a link on our website. The link to the evaluation is also posted in various Park District facilities via QR codes that encourage visitors to complete the evaluation in spots where they may have a few spare moments (while waiting in line, lobbies, etc.). Additionally, staff e-mail the evaluation to a sample of facility pass holders from the Park District's registration system. Evaluations are also collected by staff who will visit parks and facilities with a tablet and ask for responses in person.

- c. Customer Service Evaluation. This evaluation³ addresses the customers' experience with the service provided by the Park District, including the facilities and tangibles, reliability, responsiveness, customer care, and customer confidence. This evaluation is available online for customers to fill out via a link on our website. At different points in the year, the link to the evaluation is also included on customer receipts that are given to customers after completing a transaction with the Park District. The link to the evaluation is also posted in various Park District facilities via QR codes near customer service desks. Additionally, staff e-mail the evaluation to a sample of customers from the Park District's registration system who have recently completed a transaction with the Park District.

d. Staff Training Evaluation. This evaluation⁴ addresses staff's experience attending a training, including training content, presenter, setting, and other logistics. This evaluation is e-mailed to every Park District staff member that attends a training with the Park District, including both internal and external training.

e. Internal Customer Service Evaluation. This evaluation⁵ addresses staff's experience with the service provided by other departments within the Park District, including approachability, communication, skills and knowledge, accountability, courtesy, responsiveness, understanding, processes, professionalism, innovation, and effectiveness. This evaluation is e-mailed to a random sample of Park District staff on a monthly basis.

Responses from all of these evaluations are reviewed in a variety of different ways. Staff monitor the number of responses received to ensure that enough have been collected. The responses are displayed live on dashboards as part of the Park District's performance measurement program and are available to staff at all time. Staff can view the results as an overall agency average and can drill down to view results for an individual program area, park/facility, or department. They can also view results over time so that they can see fluctuations in customer and staff satisfaction and respond to trends. These results are viewed and discussed by management staff on a quarterly basis at performance measurement meetings. Evaluation results reports can also be set up to be automatically e-mailed to staff.

Besides the on-going evaluation processes mentioned above, the Park District also does more comprehensive evaluations of various programs, parks and facilities which are usually completed on an annual basis. Examples of these reports include:

- Performance Measurement⁶
- Program Participation⁷
- Aquatics⁸
- Gymnastics⁹
- Frank Lloyd Wright Races¹⁰
- Conservatory Operations¹¹

The Park District provides on-going training for staff who are responsible for evaluation of programs, facilities, and services. An initial introductory training covering the use of the surveying software and performance measurement program is held for new full-time staff responsible for program or facility management as part of the Orientation Checklist¹. Users of the Park District's surveying software, SurveyGizmo, all have access to videos² and webinars³ on topics such as good survey design, software tips and tricks, advice on getting better survey responses, and analyzing and reporting on the results. The Park District has also provided Specialized Training with SurveyGizmo⁴ for key staff.

Because much of the evaluation taking place at the Park District is related to the performance measurement program, an Initial MPOWER Kick-Off Training⁵ was offered as well as Additional MPOWER Training⁶ for staff covering how to use the dashboards and apply the data.

10.02 - Outcomes Assessment

Standard: The agency shall use evaluation results to assess the outcomes of park and recreation programs, services, and facilities and assess the operational effectiveness of the organization. Outcomes show the relationship between resource inputs and the resulting impacts and benefits of the outputs. Outcomes are measurable changes in behaviors, attitudes, knowledge, conditions or skills.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide examples of how evaluation results are used to determine levels of performance and effectiveness in the organization and how evaluation are used to determine if specific programs, services or facilities are achieving planned or projected results.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 8 – Recreation Program Planning, p. 151; Chapter 9 – Program Services and Event Management, pp. 167-171; Chapter 23 – Evaluation and Action Research, p. 642.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District uses evaluation results to assess whether or not its programs and services are achieving the desired outcomes. Many of these outcomes are tracked through the Park District's performance measurement program, with the results analyzed as a whole through the annual Park District Performance Measurement Report¹.

Additionally, the Park District uses other forms of outcome assessments to determine if participants are meeting program objectives as designated in the Park District's Recreation Programming Plan². Outcome assessments come in the form of evaluation results, skill development assessments, and other documentation of outcomes through participation. Results from these assessments are also used to help staff determine if any adjustments are needed to the class curriculums.

10.03 - Performance Measurement

Standard: The agency shall have a procedure for tracking and monitoring data trends and measuring performance against targets linked to achievement of goals and objectives.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide performance targets and measurement in use by the agency. Describe the process and frequency of performance measurement and cite examples for how the results have been used by the agency to affect decisions. The measures may include data gathered from the following qualitative and quantitative sources:

- a. Recreation and demographic trends;
- b. Needs assessment;
- c. Community inventory;
- d. Surveys;
- e. Program and service statistics;
- f. Inspections;
- g. Customer feedback;
- h. Program evaluation;
- i. Risk management reports; and
- j. Budget and financial reports.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 11 – Physical Resource Planning, pp. 222-224; Chapter 23 – Evaluation and Action Research, p. 656.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District has developed a comprehensive performance measurement program named MPOWER, the name of which highlights the two main goals of the program:

1. To "empower" staff to make better decisions using data; and
2. To emphasize the power that of performance measures in moving the agency forward.

The Park District currently tracks and monitor 29 agency performance measures. Each measure is linked to chart or graph on live dashboards¹ that all full-time staff and key part-time staff have access to. The dashboards are directly connected with all of the District's major software programs, including Vermont Systems (program registration, sales, and facility management), MSI (finances, accounting, and human resources), TimeClock Plus (payroll), MicroMain (maintenance work orders), SurveyGizmo (surveys), and Google Analytics (website). This set-up allows staff to see up-to-the-minute results of performance measures in nearly all cases, allowing for much more accurate and quicker decision-making. It also allows staff to take advantage of trends more quickly instead of waiting for an end-of-the-year report when it may be too late to respond. When results are tracked outside of these software programs, data is updated on the dashboards by staff on a monthly basis.

Staff are expected to view the dashboards on a regular basis to monitor the agency progress, incorporate them into team meetings, and use the data when making decisions, and refer to the dashboard when creating reports for the Board of Commissioners or the public. Alerts have been incorporated into the dashboards to automatically notify staff when targets have been reached or when minimum thresholds have not been met so that they can be addressed immediately. Additionally, the District's management staff meet on a quarterly basis to review the current dashboard results and discuss one to two measures that require specific attention and more detailed analysis. An annual report² with the status of the performance measures is created at the end of each year and presented to the Board of Commissioners. In January 2015, the Park District also went the additional step to begin posting charts from its dashboards on its website for the public to view.

The MPOWER program was rolled out in January 2014, but has already had an impact on District decision-making. Some examples include:

- The Revenue Facilities Department noticed that Program & Event Evaluation results showed that figure skating program participants felt more negatively about the price of the programs than the other programs offered by the department. The staff investigated and found that when viewed alongside other comparable programs, the program fees were higher. Although the department may not lower figure skating prices, they are considering not raising them in 2015.
- In response to lower than expected scores in regards to Staff Training Satisfaction, the agency promoted a part-time employee in the Human Resources Department to full-time in order to provide better focus to the District's overall staff training program.
- When the opportunity arose due to a position vacancy, a specific part-time position was dedicated to developing programs and events for seniors due to the noticeable level of seniors served as compared to other age groups in our community.
- Noticing a downward trend in wellness program participation, management staff made a concerted effort to increase awareness, which resulted in an increase in several of the programs in the second half of 2014.

10.03.01 - Level of Service Standards

Standard: The agency shall have level of service (LOS) standards for provision of land, facilities and services within the jurisdiction. LOS standards are a type of performance measure associated with equitable provision service, such as the number of facilities per 1,000 residents in a service area or facilities available within a designated travel distance or travel time, e.g. percent of population that have a park within a 10 minute walk. LOS standard can also address other dimensions of equitable access, such as connectivity, maintenance and affordability, e.g. percent of parkland connected to the trail network.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the LOS standards and describe how LOS standards are used to establish facility and service priorities.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 11 – Physical Resource Planning, pp. 223-224.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

Oak Park's geographical boundaries and population pose open space challenges unique to most communities in the United States. According to the 2010 US Census, Oak Park has over 52,000 residents in 4.7 square miles making it one of the Top 100 most densely incorporated places in the United States, ranking even high than urban areas like Miami, Florida and Washington DC. Because of this, the Park District is unable to rely on traditional standards to plan for parks and facilities and has adopted its own Level of Service (LOS) standards¹. These standards are updated at least every 10 years in conjunction with the development of the Park District Comprehensive Plan using results from a needs assessment, benchmarking results, and knowledge of the practical and physical constraints of Oak Park.

The Park District's Park Master Plans Policy² requires that these planning documents and standards are be taken into consideration during park and facility master planning processes, which occur for each park site a minimum of every 10 years.

10.04 - Needs Assessment

Standard: The agency shall periodically conduct an assessment of assets and needs to identify existing and projected gaps in service and determine land, facility and service priorities. Need assessments are used to help determine priorities for developing services with the agency. Needs assessments can use a variety of methods to obtain input from the community, including focus groups, advisory boards, forums, and surveys.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide the current needs assessment, describe the procedural steps in conducting the assessment, describe the frequency of updates, and describe the use of the assessment in agency planning.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 5 - Organization Structure and Administrative Operations, p. 107; Chapter 8 - Recreation Program Planning, pp. 133-134; Chapter 11 - Physical Resource Planning, p. 228.

10.05 - Program and Service Statistics

Standard: The agency shall collect and analyze statistics on its programs and services for evaluation and future program and service development.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide examples of statistics collected, describe the frequency of updates, and describe how the agency makes use of the information.

10.05.01 - Recreation and Leisure Trends Analysis

Standard: The agency shall assess periodically societal and local recreation and leisure trends and determine how those trends impact existing and projected user populations.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide trends analysis, describe frequency of updates, and describe linkage to agency goals and objectives.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 23 – Evaluation and Action Research, p. 644.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

A recreation trend analysis¹ is prepared as part of development of the Park District's comprehensive master plan, which occurs every 10 years. The most recent version of this plan was completed in 2014 for implementation beginning in 2015. The analysis includes data on national trends as well as information specific to the Oak Park community. It becomes part of the research that shapes the plan recommendations and objectives² created for the Park District that result in a mix of one-time and on-going goals for the Park District over the next decade.

10.05.02 - Community Inventory

Standard: The agency shall compile a complete and current inventory of parkland and recreation facilities, programs and services in the service area, including those provided by the agency and those offered by schools and other alternative public, private, non-profit providers.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide a complete and current inventory of parkland, programs and services available in the community, describe the frequency of updates, and describe how the agency makes use of this information.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 8 – Recreation Program Planning, pp. 129-130.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

As part of the Park District's comprehensive master planning processes, which takes place every 10 years, the Park District completes an inventory of parks and recreation facilities as well as programs and services provided by the Park District and other providers in Oak Park. The most recent version, the 2015-2024 Park District of Oak Park Comprehensive Master Plan¹ included such an inventory². This inventory, along with level of service standards and equity mapping is used by the Park District Board of Commissioners and staff in determining the numbers and locations of new parks, park amenities, and/or recreation facilities.

Additionally, as part of comprehensive master planning process, staff also updated the inventory of recreation services offered throughout Oak Park, both by the Park District and other public, non-profit, and private service providers. This information is included in the Recreation Programming Plan³, which is updated every 5 years. This information is used by programming staff to identify new opportunities for programs and services in the community as well as potential partners. It is also used by staff to help avoid duplication of services.

Standard: The agency shall create an online profile and enter operating data into PRORAGIS, the national park and recreation database.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide a copy of the agency Custom Report from the PRORAGIS database.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District is an early adopter of data-related technology, including PRORAGIS¹. Information from across the Park District is gathered and entered for analysis and comparison purposes.

10.06 - Research Investigation

Standard: The agency shall conduct at least one experimental exploration or research investigation each year related to park and recreation operations. These are demonstration or pilot projects where performance data are collected before and after the test to determine effectiveness.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide a report on a current or recent experimental or demonstration research project designed to improve a product or to test a new process or procedure, including methods used and research findings; provide brief descriptions of other research investigations undertaken over the past five (5) years.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 23 – Evaluation and Action Research, pp. 658-659.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District often implements new ideas in order to better serve the community and places a heavy emphasis on measuring results. Examples of recent investigations include:

2014 - Identification Requirement at Basketball Courts

Due to fights and negative behavior on Park District basketball courts, staff tested a new protocol which required individuals 17 years or old to show identification and sign-in to participate at one of the basketball court sites.

Over the course of the summer, incidents decline once the process was implemented. A Sport Court Report¹ was completed to document the results.

2013 - Dashboard Use

In order to better monitor the agency's performance, the Park District investigated methods to display agency-wide performance measures, including the current annual report, monthly Excel spreadsheets, Excel charts, and dashboards. The Park District tested several options, including dashboard software. Staff collaborated with a software provider to conduct several trials with dashboards and the Park District determined that the dashboards would be the best option. Software was installed in 2013 and the Park District began tracking many measures to determine the Park District's baseline performance levels. The software was rolled out to staff in 2014. Many improvements in performance were observed, including program registration, pass sales, and overall Oak Park household participation.

Measure	2012	2013	2014
Program Registrations	26,216	24,477	29,369
Pass Sales	10,721	7,011	11,811
Household Participation	not tracked	26%	30%

2012 - Athletic Field Study

Park District athletic fields are in high demand by a variety of sports user groups and limited in number as the Park District only has a total of 82 acres which includes parks, facilities, and fields. The Park District conducted a study to understand how many hours each field was being permitted as well as to identify best practices for field maintenance. The study provided recommendations on field maintenance practices as well as recommendations for adding synthetic turf to the Park District portfolio. The Park District implemented the recommendations which have led to better field conditions through overseeing and adding irrigation and an aggressive aerification process. Additionally, the Park District has already added two synthetic turf fields to its system. The Athletic Field Usage Report² demonstrates that with the changes, the Park District was able to initially lower the usage on the fields and then better align use with recommendations in the second year.

2011 - Online Rentals

In 2011, the Park District examined its rental process. Staff realized that all rental processes required customers to contact the Park District to determine the availability of the facility they were interested in and then to physically fill out a form and in many cases, come into a Park District facility to complete a rental application. Staff decided to improve this process and began by adding facility calendars for some facilities to the Park District website so that customers would have access to check availability online before filling out an application. Based on the success of this, staff decided to expand this by developing electronic rental processes to allow residents to reserve facilities online. The following spring, staff made picnic areas and community centers available for online rental. It was well received, but required additional promotion of this new feature. The Park District has added gymnastics parties to the rental options in 2013 and pool and rink parties in 2014. The results for online rentals are as follows:

Online Rental Type	2011	2012	2013	2014
Picnics & Parties	0	19	92	146
Community Center Rentals	0	71	127	138

The number of online rentals as well as revenue generated has increased. Additionally, the residents have appreciated the ease. This change in process has proven successful and staff will continue to identify additional rentals to add to the website.

2010 - Carry In/Carry Out Program

The Park District's Green Advisory Committee (GAC) recommended educating sports teams about the importance of recycling as well as reducing the amount of trash disposed of at parks. The committee met with representatives of Oak Park Youth Baseball and Softball and got their support to educate t-ball league parents and participants. Signs were posted at five fields promoting the program. Additionally, trash cans were moved further away from the ball fields to reduce the convenience. In 2011, the GAC reviewed the results of the initiative with Park District staff and found the reduced refuge resulted in fewer overflowing trash receptacles on or near the field. The program was expanded to including all OPYBS locations. Based on its added success, the program was again expanded to eventually include all youth sports leagues at all Park District athletic fields.

Program Reach	2009	2010	2011	2012	2013
Sports Participants	0	240	1,600	3,700	4,000

10.06.01 - Quality Assurance

Standard: The agency shall monitor and evaluate the quality of its programs, services and facilities from the user perspective. Examples include but are not limited to customer comment cards, secret/mystery shopper surveys, user satisfaction surveys, program evaluates and focus groups.

Suggested Evidence of Compliance: Provide recent examples of methods used to collect, monitor and evaluate quality assurance data from users.

Informational reference in the Management of Park and Recreation Agencies, (2010), 3rd Ed., Chapter 15 – Public Relations, Marketing, and Customer Service, pp. 370-372.

Agency Evidence of Compliance:

The Park District of Oak Park utilizes numerous methodologies to regularly solicit and monitor user feedback in regards to programs, facilities, and services. Where ever possible, this feedback is made available to staff immediately and is viewed on an on-going basis so that staff can respond to trends immediately.

a. External Service Evaluations

On an on-going basis, external users are asked to complete evaluations¹⁻³ related to their experience in District programs, at District parks and facilities, and also with overall service provided by the District. Responses are collected in a variety of ways, with staff soliciting results through e-mail and in-person on tablets. Additionally, users have the ability to access the evaluations through advertised links and QR codes in the District's seasonal program guide, on the website, and on signage in facilities. Results from these surveys updated daily on the District's dashboards and are monitored as part of the overall MPOWER performance measurement program so that all staff have access to the most up-to-date results and can respond immediately to any trends they may observe. More detailed reports with additional comments are available to staff on a regular basis through the District's surveying tool. These metrics are made available to the Board of Commissioners on a regular basis through a quarterly MPOWER report.

The evaluation tools have also been designed to serve as a direct communication tool between users and the staff. When a customer indicates that a service problem has occurred, an e-mail is automatically sent to the appropriate staff member notifying them of the issue so that they may contact the customer to address the problem.

b. Online Presence

The District continuously receives inquires and suggestions from the community via the Department's website and social media sites. Messages received through the District's "Contact Us" website form⁴ are forwarded to the appropriate staff member for a timely response. The Communications & Marketing team regularly encourages community with the community via the District's Facebook and Twitter pages and answers questions and responds to comments from followers of the pages. Staff also monitor customer review websites such as Yelp for feedback on parks and facilities.

c. Community Survey

In 2014, the District contracted with the consulting firm, Public Research to conduct a community needs assessment⁵. The purpose of the survey was to guide the District in the future development of programs, facilities, and services. The survey results demonstrated that:

- 90% of citizens indicated that they were satisfied with the Park District
- 91% of citizens rated the overall quality of programs and events as good or excellent
- 90% of citizens rated the overall quality of the parks as good or excellent

It is the District's policy that a community-wide survey is distributed at least once every 5 years, although it has been conducted more frequently in the past when citizen feedback was requested by the Board of Commissioners on major issues.
